Kumera Drives established a representative office in China

Following the business expansion to China, more Kumera power transmission equipment has been delivered to China in the recent years. To further develop the Kumera Drives marketing and sales, and provide the Chinese customers with an excellent after sales service, Kumera Drives set up its own operations in Shanghai in the beginning of August 2007, officially called Kumera Shanghai representative office.

The aim of the representative office is to respond to increasing demand for local support in new equipment business as well as existing installations.

Kumera Corporation is one of the world's prominent suppliers to the pulp and paper industry. With its three divisions: power transmission, foundries, and technology, it combines a wide range of products and know-how for the process industry.

Kumera Drives, a parent company of Kumera Power Transmission Group, designs, manufactures and supplies standard and special gear units for demanding applications of equipment manufacturers and end users starting from wood yards to the finishing equipment of paper machine lines. Kumera has an extensive program for gear service, from delivery of spare parts and wearing parts to comprehensive repair and maintenance projects and service contracts.

For any business with Kumera, please contact Mr. Qu Fang-Cheng, Chief Representative of Kumera Shanghai Representative Office.
